

ETAPS 2014: information on the venue

April 5-13, 2014
Grenoble, France

Pre-workshops: April 5-6, 2014
Main Conferences: April 7-11; 2014
Post-workshops: April 12-13, 2014

www.etaps.org/2014

About

Main Conferences: April 7-11, 2014

- CC
International Conference on Compiler Construction
- ESOP
European Symposium on Programming
- FASE
Fundamental Approaches to Software Engineering
- FOSSACS
Foundations of Software Science and Computation Structures
- POST
Principles of Security and Trust
- TACAS
Tools and Algorithms for the Construction and Analysis of Systems

Satellite Events: April 5-6 and April 12-13, 2014

We will have 20 workshops and conferences affiliated to ETAPS 2014. Satellites events will be announced shortly.

Invited Speakers

- Christel Baier (Technical University of Dresden, Germany)
- Benoit Dupont de Dinechin (Kalray, France)
- Robert Harper (Carnegie Mellon University, US)
- Maurice Herlihy (Brown University, US)
- Petr Jančar (Technical Univ of Ostrava, Czech Republic)
- Orna Kupferman (Hebrew University Jerusalem, Israel)
- John Launchbury (Galois, US)
- David Mazieères (Stanford University, US)

Important Dates

- Abstract Submission: Oct 4, 2013
- Paper Submission: Oct 11, 2013
- Author Notification: Dec 20, 2013
- Camera-ready version: Jan 17, 2014

Venue

Please find below some information about the venue. Complete and detailed information is available on ETAPS 2014 website.

About Grenoble

Located in the southeastern part of France, Grenoble is considered as the capital of the Alps. Grenoble is surrounded by nature and high mountains: down the Alps, Grenoble is the meeting point of two important rivers, called “Drac” and “Isere”. Grenoble has important historical and gastronomic heritages. Leisure activities in breathtaking nature are easily organizable and within short-distance. Grenoble is also a major scientific center in Europe dedicated to high-tech technologies, e.g., nano, micro, bio, and information technologies.

Pre and Post workshops

Pre and Post workshops will take place in Grenoble’s Campus. The campus is easily and quickly reachable from downtown with public transportation.

Main Conferences

Main conferences will take place in the Grenoble World Trade Center:

Europole - Centre de congres
5, place Robert Schuman
World Trade Center
38025 Grenoble cedex
www.europole-congres.com

Hotel Information

On ETAPS 2014 you will find a list of hotels proposed by ETAPS 2014 Organizing committee and other hotels. We will arrange discount prices for ETAPS participants.

How to reach Grenoble?

Grenoble is easily reachable by several means.

- By plane: There are 3 airports:
 - International airport of Lyon Saint-Exupery (100 km).
There is a bus connection between Lyon Saint-Exupery and the Grenoble train station.
Links to the bus schedules will be available on conference's website.
 - Grenoble Saint-Geoirs airport (45km).
A bus is waiting for every arriving plane.
 - The Geneva International airport. (150 km).
There is a bus connection to Grenoble. For train timetable, query the Swiss railway “from Geneva Airport to Grenoble”.
- By train:
There are TGV (fast train) connections with Paris (3h travel time, 7 trains/day), Lyon (1h30 travel time, 28 trains/day) and Brussels (5h travel time), international connections to Geneva (120km) and Milano. Links to railway servers are provided on the shcool's website.
- Taxis in Grenoble: “Les taxis grenoblois” - available 24 - 7.
Phone: +33 476 54 42 54